The Career Ready Mentoring Program connects UNSW students in their penultimate and final year of study with established industry professionals, providing students with a significant opportunity to focus on career development during the transition from study to work.

Responsibilities

Through industry exposure, professional guidance and self-directed participation, each student will develop career-ready skills, providing a tangible link between study, employment and industry.

The program offers the flexibility of conducting meetings face to face, by video (such as Skype or Zoom) or by phone.

How to get involved

Applications for the 2020 program have closed

Training

UNSW Student Academic and Career Success will provide pre-program training, which will assist in the development of students' confidence and preparation for the program.
