On 3 July 2017 UNSW successfully launched its new Lecture Recordings+ service.

How will this affect you?

You will continue to access your recorded lectures through Moodle as usual. You will notice a new interface which is friendlier and easy-to-use and some new buttons, but all the usual functionality is there. See what’s changed

Interactive learning – the future…

As you explore the Lecture Recordings+ interface you will discover that it offers much more than the familiar lecture recordings. You will find a range of tools that are designed to support your learning, before, during and after class.
