Based in the heart of London, UCL is a world-leading university. Our academic specialisms cover most subjects, from the arts and social sciences to health and physical sciences, and our innovative focus on interdisciplinary study to examine global issues sets us apart.

Our academic excellence and location in one of the world’s most dynamic capital cities give you unrivalled personal, social and academic benefits which will enhance any CV or résumé.

All UCL Summer School modules aim to incorporate the latest research in each subject area, and many also make use of London as a unique learning resource, taking the learning experience beyond the classroom through excursions and field trips.

The UCL Summer School is divided into two sessions, each spanning three weeks. You can choose to attend for one or two sessions, and you will study one module per session. You will be taught by UCL academics in interactive small groups and many modules incorporate class visits and guest speakers to further enhance your learning. As a UCL Summer School student you will have full-time student status and a UCL ID card which entitles you to full borrowing rights in our libraries.

With 18 specialist libraries and five permanent collections on campus, and all of London’s museums, galleries and monuments within easy reach, you will have a wealth of resources to support your studies. While some personal study is necessary in order to succeed, evenings and weekends are clear to allow you to explore the city of London and further afield.
