If you are new to referencing, or if you need a refresher, if marks are awarded for correct referencing in your course, then you will want to participate in this workshop. It will explore how to incorporate correct referencing conventions into your assignments. Come along and participate in activities that will sharpen your appreciation of the basic components of citation. You will gain most benefit from this workshop if you bring along some of the texts (readings, journal articles etc) that you are currently using. Please make sure you know which style/s you will be required to use this semester in your courses.
