Who can join this Peer Mentoring Program?

The Law International Outreach Mentoring Program is for incoming International students commencing their first year of studying law at UNSW.

Program description

The Law International Outreach Mentoring Program is a peer mentoring program designed to assist new International students in adjusting to university life in Australia and transitioning into law school.

The aim of the program is to provide a support network for new International students commencing their law degree and encourage student involvement with university life. This will be made possible through the UNSW Law Society’s provision of regular weekly group meetings, social events and skills workshops.

is a peer mentoring program designed to assist students in adjusting to university life and the unique experiences of law school. The program is a joint initiative of the UNSW Law Faculty and Law Society, and aims to support new law students by organising regular weekly group meetings, social events and skills workshops.
