Summer program, Reimagining India 2019 - Scholarships available

Published: 9 January 2019

PROGRAM DATES: 2nd-16th February 2019

IndoGenius believe learning is best achieved through real-world experiences. Using India's cities and villages as our classroom, Reimagining India takes a different approach to education that goes beyond the lecture hall. The program combines a broad range of experiences in India, with access to industry experts, analysts, academics and skills training workshops.

Over two weeks, you will visit diplomatic enclaves, multinationals and 3D printing workshops to rural villages, ancient cities, and slum recycling centres. Along the way, you'll consider India's great political and cultural influence, explore innovative contributions to global challenges, and gain a deep insight into India's future opportunities.

You'll leave India bursting with new ideas, experiences, and inspiration to help you carve out your future studies and career path.

The program is delivered by IndoGenius – India's leading provider of short courses to international students with over 1,200 alumni from the UK, U.S., and Australia since 2011.

Participants will interact with 20+ local and international organisations in Delhi, Mumbai, and Jaipur:

- On-site visits and talk with industry experts from various sectors;
- Government bodies, including the Australian High Commission;
- Visits to prestigious institutions to meet students and learn about their entrepreneurial businesses and ideas;
- On-site visits and activities with social enterprises.
- You will meet and network with business leaders at their corporate offices and interact with the world's fastest-growing startup ecosystem.

The program is not just a great opportunity to gain new skills, experiences, and friends.

Technology and globalization are transforming the spaces in which we live, learn and work. As the world becomes increasingly interconnected, careers in the 21st Century will be very different to recent decades. Young graduates need to be adaptable, creative and confident to thrive in an increasingly competitive and uncertain future.

In addition to learning about India, the program will help to reveal your potential contributions to the 21st-century world and job market.

The course fee is $3250. This includes the admission fee, accommodation for the duration of the programme, meals during programme activities as well as domestic transport and transit for official programme activities.

A $3000 New Colombo Plan grant is available for eligible undergraduate students.
