Applications for the Chinese University of Hong Kong's International Summer School are now open.

Two unique sessions will be offered at ISS 2019. The July Session, which lasts for five weeks, offers 27 courses in five academic areas taught by outstanding CUHK and visiting professors from overseas universities. It will be followed by the three week August Session, which exclusively offers intensive Chinese language courses. All courses will be taught in English apart from Chinese language courses.

The wide variety of cultural activities are always the favourite among students of the ISS. City tours, cooking classes and Chinese calligraphy class are just some of the examples of the many activities available that offer students opportunities to make friends with peers from around the world while at the same time get a glimpse of Chinese and Hong Kong culture.
Apply

If you wish to transfer credit for the program, you must first seek approval from your faculty for credit transfer through Cross-Institutional Enrolment. For more information see - Applying for credit and funding for your overseas short course.

To apply for this program, please complete the UNSW Overseas Short Course Application Form by 29th April 2019. Limited exchange places will be available

Risk assessment

All programs involve some degree of risk to participants. If you choose to source a provider on your own, please remember to do some research on them first and ensure that they are a legitimate organisation and that the product they offer will definitely meet your requirements. Students are therefore advised to undertake their own risk assessment before departure and any participation in these programs is at their own risk.

Before departure

All students should register their travel with UNSW. You should also undertake a risk assessment before heading overseas. For more information see - How to prepare for departure.
