Who can join this Peer Mentoring Program?

The Transition Assistance Peer Program (TAPP) is a mentoring program for students who participated in the U@UNSW Program in High School Years 11 and 12.

Program description

This mentoring program has been designed to assist 1st year U@UNSW students with their transition to university. Mentors and mentees will meet once a week for a one hour session. Students are encouraged to also participate in their Faculty specific mentoring programs.

Your peer mentor will assist you to:

- engage with the university experience and develop a sense of student identity
- raise your awareness of a range of student support services available to you
- share an experienced students perspective and knowledge in regards to university life and learning
- connect with a small group of peers on campus
- become independent and life-long learners.
