Highlights:

The Pollinate Digital Fellowship Program brings field work to the desk top, and is designed for students and recent graduates from around the world to gain experience in an award-winning social enterprise.

The Digital Fellowship is a combination of workshops, webinars, project work and self directed learning, delivered over 5 modules in an intensive 2 week period.

The Program will run from January 18th - February 5th, and will explore a number of topics, including:

- Introduction to social entrepreneurship
- Development theory, women's empowerment models, last-mile distribution and microfinance
- Sustainable and renewable technology applicable for use in informal settlements
- COVID-19 and its affect on migrant workers in India and Nepal
- Working digitally across cultures, languages and time-zones
