Published: 14 May 2021

Highlights:

Korea University’s International Summer Campus (KUISC) provides a diverse and inclusive educational experience to empower University students for their future. KU ISC offers two types of programs in terms of program period: 4-week & 6-week programs. Students are allowed to take a combination of a 4-week track course and a 6-week track course.

UNSW students may participate in the online class option which will be delivered via live-streaming with recordings available on-demand.

KU ISC 2021 classes are composed of both online/in-person lectures in "Blended classes.". KU ISC will operate the physical presence classes on the campus for those who are already in the country. At the same time, the professors will conduct live-streaming of the class, so those online can participate in the class in real-time. The professors will also upload the recorded live-streamed class so students may watch the lectures on their own if they cannot attend the live-stream class.
