On this page, you can find links to information about changing your enrolment such as adding, dropping and swapping courses, taking leave from study, or transferring to another program.

Adding, swapping or dropping a course (subject)

Once enrolment has started, you can update your enrolment at any time on myUNSW until the enrolment deadline.

Late enrolment changes

It is still possible to change your enrolment after the enrolment deadline, although there are other deadlines you need to be aware of. Each deadline affects your enrolment status, academic record and/or fee or contribution liability.

Please check these deadlines before you change your enrolment.

See enrolment dates for add and drop deadlines.

How to apply for:

- Program leave
  Find out how to apply for program leave if you are not planning to study this term/semester.
- Program discontinuation
  If you want to stop and not resume your program, you need to apply to discontinue your program.
- Program transfer
  Find out how to apply to move from one program to another within UNSW.
- Cross-institutional study
  If you would like to study at another institution as part of your UNSW program, you can apply for cross-institutional study.

Multiple enrolment rules
You cannot enrol in more than one program at the same time.

See also

- Forms and documents relating to enrolment
- Enrolment contacts
Support advisors
For support with enrolment variation

Handbook
Guide to degree programs and courses offered at UNSW