In alignment with UNSW’s 2025 Strategy, the Advantage Program is undergoing a review process as part of a broader enhancement project to ensure that accredited co-curricular and professional opportunities that feature on students’ AHEGS continue to achieve our collective goal in providing valuable student experiences and developing well-rounded graduates. To allow time to complete this review and implement the changes, an interim process has been established - Find out more.

Are you a UNSW Faculty, School or Division currently offering a co-curricular activity or program to students? Are you a Student Organisation with an executive committee, or offering professional development or volunteering opportunities for your members?

We encourage you to nominate your opportunities and programs for accreditation under UNSW Advantage. Accreditation through UNSW Advantage enhances the prestige of what you offer. UNSW Advantage also authorises the activity or executive position(s) to be listed on participating students’ official AHEGS.

Below are guidelines and information on best practice which detail the UNSW Advantage requirements in nominating and administering your opportunities.

What is Advantage
The accreditation body that assesses eligibility for AHEGS.

What is AHEGS
The Australian Higher Education Graduate Statement (AHEGS).

Why nominate
Why nominate an opportunity or position with UNSW Advantage.

Who can nominate
Who can nominate an opportunity or position.

How to nominate
How do I nominate an opportunity or position.

Eligibility
What opportunities and positions are eligible for UNSW Advantage.

Responsibilities
What responsibilities does a Provider agree to.

How to administer student records

How does a Provider administer student records.

Contacts for help

Do you need further help or information?

Over 450 accredited activities

Search opportunities

Find volunteer opportunities

Take the online quiz

UNSW Advantage

What is UNSW Advantage?