STEP 1:

What matters to me?
STEP 2:

Identifying Organisations

- Use the Community Partner Directory
- Do a google search e.g. ‘animal care Sydney’, ‘animal rescue Sydney’
- Think about your own network. Does anyone work or volunteer or have experience in your fields of interest?
- Use https://student.unsw.edu.au/advantage to find volunteering opportunities within UNSW in your interest area.
- Search online not for profit directories and referal services to identify organisations offering community services in your area
  - http://www.connectingup.org/directory/nonprofit
STEP 3:

Create a spreadsheet of your Ideas and Findings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Causes I identified</th>
<th>e.g. Animal welfare</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Specific organisations (Your top picks) | 1. RSPCA
2. Animal Rights Australia
3. Sydney Dogs and Cats Home
4. Sydney Zoo |
| Suburb | Sydney |
| Volunteer Roles | Kennel Assistants, Event Volunteers, Animal Transporters or Youth Volunteer
Life Science Volunteers, Guest Volunteers, Bush regeneration, Administration Volunteers |
| Additional Comments (deadline, description etc.) | Application requirements
Cut off dates
Location
Other working conditions to take into consideration
Time commitment. |
STEP 4:

#I’mstuck – Can’t Find a CP

Contact Us for Help

- www.facebook.com/groups/UNSWLeadershipProgram
- Email: leadership@unsw.edu.au
- The Hub (on campus near Boost)

Networking events

Find out what others are doing for their CP and how they started off
- Look out for events during the semester including the launch BBQ.
- Talk to peers at Workshop events
- Stay tuned for our post exam leadership conferences
- Reach out on the Facebook page to connect with graduates/alumni

Extra resources

- https://student.unsw.edu.au/leadership-student
- https://student.unsw.edu.au/leadership-resources
- Community Partner Directory
Of course you need to discuss the details of the Leadership Program with your supervisor from the organisation. Remember they will need to keep track of your hours and submit two short forms through My Record about your placement; one at the beginning and one at the end. You can’t start counting your 20 hours until the Leadership Program team have approved your placement and your supervisor has submitted the online Agreement form.

Your turn: When everything is discussed and confirmed with your supervisor, the final step is to log onto My Record and complete and submit the form entitled ‘Community Engagement Approval’ (www.myrecord.unsw.edu.au). Once this is approved and your supervisor has submitted the online Agreement form, you can start counting your hours!