GLOSSARY

Administrative date—A date set by your approved higher education provider (before the census date) for submitting your Request for a Commonwealth supported place and a HECS-HELP loan form or making upfront payments of your student contributions. You can still do this after the administrative date (but before the census date), but you may have to pay a late fee. Your provider cannot set an administrative date or charge you a late fee in relation to withdrawing from a unit or course.

Approved higher education provider (provider)—In this booklet, this term means a university or other accredited higher education provider that has been approved by the Australian Government to offer CSPs and HECS-HELP loans to eligible students.

Australian Taxation Office (ATO)—The principal revenue collection agency of the Australian Government. It is responsible for managing HELP debt repayments.

Available HELP balance—This is your available borrowing capacity for HECS-HELP (and FEE-HELP, VET Student Loans and VET FEE-HELP [closed]) from 1 January 2020. View your available HELP balance via the myHELPbalance portal at www.myHELPbalance.gov.au.

Census date—This date is set by providers and it is the legal deadline for various requirements, like making an upfront payment of your student contributions, applying for a HECS-HELP loan or formally withdrawing your enrolment so you won’t incur a HELP debt.

HELP loan limit—This is a cap on what you can borrow from the Australian Government to cover the cost of your tertiary studies. All FEE-HELP, VET Student Loans, VET FEE-HELP [closed]) and HECS-HELP from 1 January 2020, count towards a HELP loan limit.

Commonwealth Higher Education Student Support Number (CHESSN)—This is a 10-digit number provided by the Australian Government, to all students who are in receipt of a CSP or HELP loan. If you have accessed Commonwealth assistance between 2005 and 2020 you will have been assigned a CHESSN. From 2021, the CHESSN will be replaced with the Unique Student Identifier (USI) for new students.

Commonwealth Assistance Notice (CAN)—A notice from your provider given after the census date that gives you information about the Commonwealth assistance you have used for the study period.

Commonwealth supported place (CSP)—A place at a provider that is subsidised by the Australian Government. If you are enrolled in a CSP, you only have to pay the ‘student contribution’ amount for your study.

Course of study—In this booklet, this term means a course leading to a higher education award, like a Bachelor degree.

CSP and HELP Handbook—A comprehensive handbook that contains information about CSPs and the various HELP loans available to help eligible tertiary students to pay for their study.

Electronic Commonwealth assistance form (eCAF)—An electronic version of the Request for a Commonwealth supported place and a HECS-HELP form you must submit to your provider to request a HELP loan and/or accept an offer of a CSP.

Equivalent full-time student load (EFTSL)—This is how your study ‘load’ (or amount of study) is measured. For one year, a full-time student is normally enrolled in one EFTSL of study.
Grandfathered student—A student who:

1. started a course of study prior to 1 January 2021 and who:
   a. has not completed that course prior to 1 January 2021; and
   b. is Commonwealth supported in relation to that course; and
   c. enrols in a unit of study in that same course on or after 1 January 2021; or
2. completed a course of study before 1 January 2021 and who:
   a. starts another course of study that is related to the course they have completed and leads to an honours degree; and
   b. was Commonwealth supported in relation to the course they completed before 1 January 2021; and
   c. enrols in a unit of study in the new course leading to an honours degree, on or after
      1 January 2021; or
3. was undertaking an enabling course in 2020 and who:
   a. starts another course of study leading to a higher education award on or after 1 January 2021; and
   b. was Commonwealth supported in relation to the enabling course; and
   c. enrols in a unit of study in the new course leading to a higher education award, on or after
      1 January 2021; or
4. was undertaking an undergraduate certificate in 2020 and who:
   a. starts another related course of study leading to a bachelor degree on or after 1 January 2021; and
   b. was Commonwealth supported in relation to the undergraduate certificate course they are undertaking in 2020; and
   c. enrols in a unit of study in the new course leading to a Bachelor degree, on or after 1 January 2021.

HECS-HELP—The loan scheme that helps eligible Commonwealth supported students pay their student contributions. Before 2005, this was known as HECS.

HECS-HELP discount—A 10 per cent discount given to eligible students who make a full upfront payment of 90% of their student contribution amount for their unit/s of study, or a partial up-front payment of $500 or more towards their unit/s of study, to their provider.

Higher Education Loan Program (HELP)—Australian Government loans to help you pay your student contributions (HECS-HELP), tuition fees (FEE-HELP or VET Student Loans/VET FEE-HELP [closed]), overseas study expenses (OS-HELP) or the student services and amenities fee (SA-HELP). HELP loans are repaid through the Australian tax system once you earn above the compulsory repayment threshold.

HELP debt—The total of any HECS-HELP, OS-HELP, FEE-HELP, VET FEE-HELP (closed)/VET Student Loans or SA-HELP debts you have incurred (including any Australian Government study loans from before 2005). It will also include any applicable loan fees and any indexation that has been applied to your debt.

Higher Education Support Act 2003 (the Act)—The Commonwealth legislation that outlines the requirements for getting a CSP, HECS-HELP loan and other Australian Government assistance.

myHELPbalance (www.myHELPbalance.gov.au)—This portal will allow you to view your available HELP balance entitlement. You will also be able to see your study history, as well as view any repayments to the ATO that credit your HELP balance.
New Zealand Special Category Visa (NZ SCV)—If you arrived in Australia using a New Zealand passport, in the absence of another valid Australian visa, you will have automatically received a SCV provided you met certain security, character and health requirements. It is a temporary visa that expires as soon as you leave Australia, but it remains in place for as long as you remain in Australia.

Non-grandfathered student—A student other than a grandfathered student.

Request for a Commonwealth supported place and a HECS-HELP loan form—The official name of the form you must submit to your provider to accept an offer of a CSP. If you are eligible, you will also use this form to request a HECS-HELP loan. This form is usually completed online, as an eCAF.

Special circumstances—Specific requirements that you must meet for your HELP balance to be re-credited, and your HECS-HELP debt to be removed, as outlined in the Act and its associated guidelines.

Student contribution amounts (student contributions)—The amount of fees you will pay as a Commonwealth supported student enrolled in a CSP.

Study Assist (www.studyassist.gov.au)—This website provides information about how you can pay for your tertiary study. It includes information about the types of HELP loans available, a list of providers that offer HELP loans, and student income support options.

Tax file number (TFN)—Your unique identification number from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) for everything tax-related. You must have a TFN to obtain a HELP loan and make HELP debt repayments to the ATO.

Unique Student Identifier (USI)—Your USI is a reference number made up of a combination of ten numbers and letters. It is a student identifier assigned to you by the Student Identifiers Registrar under the Student Identifiers Act 2014. Your USI is used to connect your student loan information to your personal details. If you are starting a higher education course in 2021, you will need a USI to get a HELP loan for your study. If you do not already have a USI, you can apply for one on the Unique Student Identifier website (https://www.usi.gov.au).
COMMONWEALTH SUPPORTED PLACES (CSP)

What is a CSP?
In a CSP, the cost of your study is split into two parts:
- the Australian Government pays a share of the costs directly to your provider—this is your subsidy amount
- you pay your share of the costs—and this is called your student contribution amount.

If you are eligible, you can use a HECS-HELP loan to pay your student contribution amount.
If you are not enrolled in a CSP, you will be enrolled in a fee paying place. Fee paying places are not subsidised by the Government so these students will pay full tuition fees. CSPs are usually cheaper than fee paying places. If you are enrolled in a fee paying place, please read the FEE-HELP information booklet for more information about what assistance may be available to you.

Where can I get a CSP?
CSPs are available at all public universities (listed under Table A in the Act). You can also get a CSP at some private higher education providers (a provider that is not listed under Table A in the Act) in national priority areas like nursing or education.
Most CSPs are for undergraduate courses of study, but some CSPs are available for postgraduate courses.

You can check which providers offer CSPs at www.studyassist.gov.au.

Can I get a CSP?
To be eligible for a CSP you must be either:
- an Australian citizen who will complete some of your course of study in Australia
- a New Zealand citizen
- a permanent visa holder or permanent humanitarian visa holder who will be in Australia for the duration of your study.

You must also:
- meet the USI requirements (for new students commencing a course of study on or after 1 January 2021)
- have completed all the necessary steps to secure your CSP by the census date.

Being eligible for a CSP does not mean you will get one. You still have to meet your provider’s entry requirements.

How do I apply for a CSP?
You apply for a CSP through the Tertiary Admissions Centre in the state or territory where your provider is located. You may also be able to apply directly to your provider. Your offer of enrolment will say whether you have been offered a CSP or a fee paying place.
To accept your CSP offer, you need to submit a valid CSP and HECS-HELP eCAF to your provider by the census date (or earlier administrative date). Your provider will give you instructions on how to do this. If you don’t do this by the correct date, you will lose your CSP and will have to re-apply for it in the next study period.

Your provider will assess whether you meet the eligibility requirements for a CSP. Please contact your provider if you require more information about this process.

What if I make a mistake on my eCAF?

If you realise you have made a mistake, you should correct it with your provider as soon as possible. You only have six weeks after the census date to correct any errors to ensure your CSP is not affected. This period is not an extension to the census date. You must meet the CSP citizenship, residency and USI requirements by the census date.

How much will my student contributions be in 2021?

Your student contribution amount depends on what you study. The Government groups different areas of study into ‘bands’ and sets a maximum amount that can be charged per year for full-time study in each band. Your provider gives each unit an EFTSL value, as a way of deciding how many units would be considered full-time study. ‘Full-time study’ is usually around eight units. Different student contribution amounts will apply based on whether you are a grandfathered student or a non-grandfathered student. If you are commencing a new course of study on or after 1 January 2021, or you are an existing student who will take units of study with lower maximum student contribution amounts from 1 January 2021, you will be a non-grandfathered student in relation to the relevant units of study. See Tables 1 and 2.

If you are a grandfathered student undertaking units that are part of a student contribution band not covered by Table 2, then your provider can charge any amount within the relevant range. Most providers charge the maximum amount.

Be aware that your course may include units from different bands. For example, some education courses (Band 1 of Table 1) may include science units (Band 2 of Table 1).
To calculate how much your student contribution amount for a unit will be, multiply the amount set by your provider with the EFTSL value of the unit. Ask your provider if you are unsure of what these are.

For example:
In 2021, Lyndal enrolls in English A01 as part of her Bachelor of Arts.

English A01 is a Band 1 unit of study. The maximum rate a provider can charge for a Band 1 subject in 2020 is $3,950 (per EFTSL).

The EFTSL value for English A01 is 0.125. Lyndal’s student contribution amount for History A01 = $3,950 × 0.125 = $493.75

How do I pay my student contributions?
You can either pay it upfront to your provider, or if you are eligible, you can apply for a HECS-HELP loan.

If you are not eligible for, or don’t want, a HECS-HELP loan and will pay your fees upfront, you must make your upfront payment by either:
- the administrative date so you aren’t charged a late fee
- the census date so your enrolment is not cancelled.

Ask your provider for these dates.

⚠️ If you don’t pay your student contributions upfront or apply for a HECS-HELP loan by the census date, your enrolment will be cancelled.

HECS-HELP

What is HECS-HELP?
HECS-HELP is a loan you can use to pay your student contribution amounts. If your provider has offered you a CSP, it can also offer you a HECS-HELP loan for your course.

Can I get HECS-HELP?
You can only get HECS-HELP if you are enrolled in a CSP. You must also be either:
- an Australian citizen who will complete some of your course of study in Australia
- a NZ SCV holder who meets the long-term residency requirements and who will be resident in Australia for the duration of your study
- a permanent humanitarian visa holder who will be resident in Australia for the duration of your study.

You must also:
- meet the TFN requirements
- meet the USI requirements (for new students commencing a course of study on or after 1 January 2021)
- have enough available HELP balance to pay your student contribution amounts
- be assessed as a genuine student and as academically suitable for your unit of study
• maintain a reasonable study load of no more than 2 EFTSL per year unless approved by your provider or providers to study a higher load
• have read this booklet
• have submitted a valid CSP and HECS-HELP eCAF to your provider by the census date (or earlier administrative date).

What is my visa status?
Your provider will need proof of your visa status to check if you are eligible for HECS-HELP. If you don’t know your visa status, you can check it on the Department of Home Affairs website at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/vevo.

NZ SCV residency requirements
If you are a NZ SCV holder, you may be eligible to access a HECS-HELP loan if you meet all of the following requirements:
• you first began to be usually resident in Australia at least 10 years before the test day*; and
• at that time, you were a dependent child under the age of 18 with no spouse or de facto partner; and
• you have been in Australia for at least:
  – a total of eight years out of the last 10 years immediately before the test day
  – a total of 18 months out of the last two years immediately before the test day.
• you are otherwise eligible for HECS-HELP.

You must give your provider evidence that you first began residing in Australia as a minor at least 10 years before the test day. You can do this by requesting your International Movement Record from the Department of Home Affairs.

*‘test day’ means the first day you successfully applied for a HECS-HELP loan for a unit that formed part of the same course of study as an eligible NZ SCV holder. Otherwise, the ‘test day’ is the day you submit your CSP and HECS-HELP eCAF.

a ‘dependent child’ is someone who is aged under 18 and does not have a spouse or de facto partner.

How much HECS-HELP can I borrow?
HELP loan limit
Since 1 January 2020, there has been a ‘HELP loan limit’ on what you can borrow for your study (this replaced the previous FEE-HELP limit). The HELP loan limit includes all previous FEE-HELP, VET FEE-HELP (closed) and VET Student Loan amounts you have borrowed. It also includes any HECS-HELP loans for units with a census date on or after 1 January 2020.

For 2021, the HELP loan limit will be $108,232 for most courses and $155,448 for certain medicine, dentistry and veterinary science courses which lead to initial registration to practise in one of these fields. Certain aviation courses are also eligible for the higher limit. Talk to your provider for more information.
Will I be charged interest?

There is no interest charged on your HELP debt but indexation will be applied to the portion of your debt that is 11 months or older on 1 June each year. Indexation maintains your debt’s real value by keeping it in line with the cost of living, as measured by the consumer price index. You can check current indexation rates at www.ato.gov.au/indexation.

Your available HELP balance

You have an ‘available HELP balance’ (which replaced the FEE-HELP balance on 1 January 2020). Your available HELP balance is your remaining loan entitlement for HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP and VET Student Loans (including the closed VET FEE-HELP loan scheme). That is, your available HELP balance is the difference between the HELP loan limit and the amount of relevant HELP loans you have already received.

It is your responsibility to keep track of your HELP loans and repayments to ensure you have enough available HELP balance to pay for your study.

Any compulsory or voluntary repayments made to the ATO on your HELP debt, from the 2019–20 income year onwards, will be re-credited to your HELP balance (i.e. making HELP repayments will increase the available HELP balance you have to undertake further study).

How do I check my available HELP balance?

You can check your available HELP balance at www.myHELPbalance.gov.au. To view your balance, in addition to your personal details (date of birth, first and last name), you will need your CHESSN or USI and student ID number at your provider.

You should use your CAN to ensure your information on the myHELPbalance portal is correct. You will receive your CAN within 28 days of your census date. If you think there are errors on your CAN, you have 14 days (from the date of the CAN) to contact your provider and ask for a new, correct one. If you can’t find your CAN, CHESSN or USI, ask your provider. Additionally, students can ask the Student Identifiers Registrar (through the USI office) for their USI under s.14 of the Student Identifiers Act 2014.

For more information on the myHELPbalance portal, the HELP loan limit or your available HELP balance, please visit www.studyassist.gov.au/help-loans/2020-loan-limit-changes.

Do I have a CHESSN or a USI?

The Government uses unique reference identifiers to monitor and manage your use of Commonwealth assistance. Depending on when you started study, your identifier will either be a CHESSN or a USI.

If you accessed Commonwealth assistance to pay for higher education or VET study between 2005 and 2020 you will have been allocated a CHESSN. If you believe you already have a CHESSN, please read the information under the heading ‘What is my CHESSN?’.

From 2021, the CHESSN is being phased out and replaced by the USI. This is to improve the management of student information and to create a single Government identifier for higher education and VET students.

If you are starting a higher education course in 2021, you will need a USI to enrol in a CSP or get a HECS-HELP loan for your study.

If you already have a CHESSN, once you provide a USI to your provider it will become your primary identifier and replace your CHESSN.
What is my CHESSN?

If you accessed Commonwealth assistance to pay for higher education or VET study between 2005 and 2020 you will have been allocated a CHESSN. It is a unique, personal identification number that was allocated to you as part of your first application to study or enrolment process.

Your CHESSN is an important identifier used to monitor and manage your Commonwealth assistance, especially for identifying whether you have reached the HELP loan limit. You should only have had one CHESSN for the duration of your studies—even if you changed providers, started a new course a few years after completing your first course, or changed your name.

If you have studied before in a CSP or received a HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP, VET FEE-HELP (closed) or VET Student Loan in the past, you can find your CHESSN on a past CAN issued to you by your provider for that course.

If you have more than one CHESSN, there is a greater risk that you could exceed the HELP loan limit. If this is the case, your provider may seek payment of your student contribution amount directly from you.

One way to tell if you have more than one CHESSN is by logging into the myHELPbalance portal. The portal should show you all of the courses for which you have received a HELP loan (or a VET Student Loan). If you can’t see past study on your account, you may have another CHESSN. You can verify this by checking the CHESSN on a CAN from your past course(s).

If you have more than one CHESSN, please contact your provider for assistance. For further information on CHESSNs, please visit www.studyassist.gov.au/help-loans/your-chessn.

What is my USI?

A Unique Student Identifier (known as a USI) is made up of a combination of ten numbers and letters that is unique to each student. Amendments made in June 2020 to the Act mean it is now compulsory for all students commencing a course of study from 1 January 2021 to apply for and obtain a USI, in order to be eligible for a CSP and Commonwealth financial assistance (HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP). From 1 January 2021, all students must have a USI before applying for OS-HELP.

For new students, in order to be eligible for a CSP and entitled to HECS-HELP, the student must have a USI before the census date for the unit of study.

From 2021, once a student has provided a USI it will become their primary identifier and replace the CHESSN. Your USI will be used to connect your student loan information to your personal details. You can log in and check or update your details at any time.

Applying for a USI is fast and free, and you keep the same USI for life. You can apply for a USI in as little as five minutes at usi.gov.au.

If you have studied a VET course in the last five years, you will already have an existing USI. Locate your USI easily at www.usi.gov.au/faqs/find-your-usi.

From 1 January 2023, all higher education students will need a USI to be eligible for a CSP and Commonwealth financial assistance (HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP, OS-HELP and SA-HELP).

Also from 1 January 2023, all higher education students will need a USI in order to graduate and receive their award unless an exemption applies.
Changes in 2022

What is the 50 per cent pass rate?
The 50 per cent pass rate requirement does not currently apply to Commonwealth supported students. Similar rules will apply to Commonwealth supported students starting study at a university from 1 January 2022.

What is the Student Learning Entitlement?
The Student Learning Entitlement is a limit on the amount of study you can undertake in a CSP in your lifetime.
The Student Learning Entitlement does not apply to students studying in 2021. The Student Learning Entitlement will apply to study from 1 January 2022 onwards.

APPLYING FOR A HECS-HELP LOAN

Is there an application or loan fee?
No. There is no application or loan fee for HECS-HELP.

The HECS-HELP discount
If you are eligible for HECS-HELP and you make a full upfront payment to your provider of 90% of your student contribution for your unit/s of study, or a partial upfront payment to your provider of $500 or more for your unit/s of study, you will receive a 10 per cent discount. This is known as the ‘HECS-HELP discount’. This discount effectively increases the value of your upfront payment (refer to the following examples).

Example only – HECS-HELP discount for full upfront payment of 90% of student contribution amount Matthew is an Australian citizen. He is enrolled in four units of study for his Bachelor of Engineering and his total student contribution amounts for the semester will be $4,384. Matthew is eligible for a HECS-HELP loan but he wants to pay his entire student contribution amounts upfront. To do so, he only needs to pay his provider $3,945 ($4,384 – 10 per cent i.e. 90% of his total student contribution amounts for his units of study) by the census date (amount is rounded down to the nearest dollar).

Example only – HECS-HELP discount for partial upfront payment of $500 or more Grace is a permanent humanitarian visa holder. She is enrolled in four units of study for her Bachelor of Computing and her total student contribution amounts for the semester will be $4,384. Grace is eligible for a HECS-HELP loan, but she wants to pay half her student contribution amounts upfront ($4,384 ÷ 2 = $2,192) and use a HECS-HELP loan for the remainder.

As Grace’s partial upfront payment is more than $500, she is also eligible for the HECS-HELP discount. Her upfront payment amount is multiplied by 1.1111 to determine the full value of her payment ($2,192 x 1.1111 = $2,435.53). The HECS-HELP discount has effectively increased the value of Grace’s upfront payment, so she will only need to use a HECS-HELP loan for $1,948 (amount is rounded down to the nearest dollar).

Visit StudyAssist (www.studyassist.gov.au) for more information on the HECS-HELP discount.

How do I apply?

You will need to submit your CSP and HECS-HELP eCAF (the same eCAF will provide access to both items). Your provider will give you instructions on how to do this as it must be done before your provider’s census date (or earlier administrative date).

You must give your provider your TFN, USI (if you are commencing a new course on or after 1 January 2021), name, date of birth and address. Your details must match the information held with the ATO and the USI Registry System. If the details in your application don’t match ATO records and the USI Registry System (if relevant), you won’t be able to access a HECS-HELP loan until you correct the error.

The most common way to apply for a TFN is at a participating Australia Post outlet. If you don’t have a TFN, you can give your provider a Certificate of Application for a TFN, which you can ask for when you apply for a TFN. To get this, you must apply for a TFN and get the certificate from the ATO. You must give your TFN to your provider within 21 days of receiving it or your access to HECS-HELP may be affected.

If you have studied a VET course in the last five years, including while at secondary school, you might already have a USI. Locate it easily at www.usi.gov.au/faqs/find-your-usi. From 1 January 2023 all higher education students, including those who commenced prior to 2021, must have a USI in order to graduate and receive their award.

Your provider will assess whether you meet the eligibility requirements for a HECS-HELP loan. Please contact your provider if you require more information about this process.

You have to provide your TFN because your HELP debt is repaid through the Australian tax system.

What is the census date and administrative date?

The census date is the last day you can submit your CSP and HECS-HELP eCAF or withdraw from a unit without incurring the debt for that unit. If you haven’t paid your student contribution amounts upfront, or correctly requested a HECS-HELP loan by the census date, then your enrolment in the CSP will be cancelled (and you will have to re-apply for it in the next study period).

Providers set their own census dates so each provider will be different. Each unit of study also has its own census date—contact your provider for more information.

The census date is the most important date for you as it is a legal deadline.

The administrative date is set before the census date and it is your provider’s deadline for you to complete certain requirements such as submitting forms or finalising payments without getting charged a late fee. Your provider cannot set an administrative date or charge you a late fee in relation to withdrawing from a unit or course. Not all providers have administrative dates. Check with your provider.

What if I make a mistake on my eCAF?

If you realise you have made a mistake, you should correct it with your provider as soon as possible. You only have six weeks after the census date to correct any errors to ensure your loan is not affected. This period is not an extension to the census date. You must meet the HECS-HELP citizenship, residency, TFN and USI requirements (if relevant) by the census date.

WITHDRAWING FROM STUDY

To withdraw from a unit or course without getting a HELP debt or losing an upfront payment, you must complete your provider’s formal withdrawal process by the census date.

If you are enrolled with more than one provider, you will need to withdraw from each one individually.

Your provider cannot set an administrative date or charge you a late fee in relation to withdrawing from a unit or course.

Special circumstances

If you withdraw from a unit of study after the census date because you become seriously ill or because of another unforeseen event, you can apply to your provider to request a refund of your upfront payment or a re-credit of your available HELP balance. To do this, you will have to meet ‘special circumstances’ criteria specified in the Act. To meet the ‘special circumstances’ criteria, you will have to demonstrate to your provider that what happened to you:

- was beyond your control
- did not make its full impact on you until on or after the census date
- made it impracticable for you to complete the requirements for your unit(s) of study.

You will need to apply to your provider within 12 months of your withdrawal day (or your provider may allow you more time). If your available HELP balance is re-credited, your HELP debt for the unit will also be removed. For more information please visit www.studyassist.gov.au/paying-back-your-loan/cancel-your-help-debt-under-special-circumstances.

This process does not apply if you have successfully completed your unit of study, or you changed your mind about studying, or you failed the unit.

REPAYING YOUR HELP DEBT

For the most up-to-date information on HELP debt repayments, check the ATO’s website at www.ato.gov.au/Individuals/Study-and-training-support-loans/When-must-you-repay-your-loan.

How do I check my HELP debt?

Your myGov account will show you a consolidated total of your HELP debt and what your repayments have been. If you don’t have a myGov account, you can set one up following the instructions at www.my.gov.au. You can then call the ATO on 13 28 61 to assist you with linking the ‘ATO online services’ to your myGov account so you can view your ATO account balances, for example, your HELP debt and superannuation accounts.
When do I start paying back my HELP debt?

You start repaying your HELP debt through the Australian tax system once you earn above the compulsory repayment threshold. The compulsory repayment threshold is different each year. For the 2020–21 income year it is $46,620. The more income you earn, the higher your repayment will be (see Table 3).

To manage repayments, your employer will withhold some of your pay to go towards paying your tax, which includes your HELP debt repayments. Although these amounts are withheld from your pay throughout the year to offset your compulsory repayment—your compulsory repayment won’t be processed until your tax return is processed.

This is because your compulsory repayment is calculated from a number of different sources on your income tax return, including:

- your taxable income
- reportable fringe benefits (reported on your payment summary)
- total net investment loss (including net rental loss)
- reportable super contributions
- exempt foreign employment income amounts.

What if I go overseas?

If you go overseas and have a HELP debt, you still need to make repayments as if you were living in Australia. If you live or plan to move overseas for 183 days or more (about six months) in any 12 month period, you must complete an Overseas Travel Notification. You must also update your contact details through ATO online services within seven days of leaving Australia.

For more information, visit www.ato.gov.au/overseasrepayments.

How much will my repayments be?

The amount you repay each year is calculated as a percentage of your world-wide income. The more income you earn, the higher your repayments will be. When you do your tax return, the ATO will calculate your income for the year and tell you on your tax notice of assessment how much your compulsory repayment will be. Compulsory repayments are not tax deductible.

In addition to your compulsory repayment, you can also make a voluntary repayment at any time.

What if I can’t make my compulsory repayment?

If you are struggling to make a compulsory repayment, there may be some options to relieve the stress. Depending on your situation, you may be eligible to apply to the ATO to request an amendment or deferment of your compulsory repayment.
