Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Act 2000

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding environment in which to study.

Australia’s laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws include the ESOS Act 2000 and the National Code. As an International Student Visa holder, you enjoy various rights, including receiving accurate information about your course, tuition fees and refund policies, access to support services and complaints processes, and information about academic progress and changes to your enrolment.

The ESOS Act also provides obligations and restrictions on students. Under the Act, students must comply with the conditions of their student visa. The University is also required to monitor and report on some of these conditions to the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP). Information provided by students may be made available to Australian Government agencies as required by the ESOS Act and related legislation.

For more information visit: internationaleducation.gov.au

Keep your residential address and contact details up to date

International Student Visa holders must comply with Condition 8533 of their student visa: Notify the University of your Contact Address in Australia.

You are required by law to inform the University within seven days of any changes to your current residential address. If you breach Condition 8533 of your student visa you run the risk of your visa being cancelled.

To update your current residential address log into my.unsw.edu.au > My Student Profile > Personal Details.
Study load visa conditions

International Student Visa holders must comply with Condition 8202 of the student visa, which states students must maintain a full-time study load and complete the program within the specified duration of the ECOE.

There is flexibility for students to vary their study load throughout the degree and students are permitted to study the minimum full-time load of 18 units of credit (UOC) per semester.

All students are encouraged to study the full 24 UOC per semester to comply with the Visa Condition and ensure completion within the specified duration of the ECOE as required. If a student chooses to study fewer than 24 UOC the student is encouraged to study over Summer Semester and the student must complete the Reduced Study Load Form with appropriate evidence attached.

Advanced Standing and your visa duration

Advanced Standing/Credit Transfer can affect the duration of an international student visa. The student must be granted 24 UOC or more before the program duration will be shortened.

If the program duration is shortened the University is obligated under the ESOS Act to report the new program duration through to DIBP. Please note that any changes will affect the duration of the ECOE and your period of study.

Distance/online learning

Students are permitted to undertake up to 25% of their program by distance/online learning. However, students cannot enrol exclusively in distance/online learning units in either Semester 1 or Semester 2. Students can study just online/distance courses in Summer Semester.

International student work rights

Coursework students (Visa Subclass 573) can work up to forty hours per fortnight once their study has commenced and during any period in which their program is in session.

A fortnight means a period of 14 days commencing on any Monday and ending on the second following Sunday.

Research students (Visa Subclass 574) will be given unlimited work rights once their masters by research or doctorate program has commenced.

Students should access border.gov.au/revo to establish their work rights.

Meet some of UNSW’s cultural mentors

Lily
BACHELOR OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Hey there! My name is Lily Cevallos and I’m currently in my second year of my Bachelor of International Studies degree, and I love it! I was born in Ecuador and moved to Australia a year ago. Sydney is an amazing city with so many things to offer, ranging from cultural events to restaurants and beautiful parks all over the city. I’m sure you’ll have an amazing time here and SDI is definitely the place to check when looking for support or just wondering what’s there to do around the city.

As an international student, I understand how scary this whole adventure might seem and that’s why I was so happy to know that I could be paired with a mentor to help me with my process before my arrival. The program allowed me to make so many friends and have fun with the amazing events they run. I had such a good time that I decided to become a mentor as well and help students in the same situation as me.

I would love to meet you and help you with anything you may need. Remember to never be afraid and join us at events. I can guarantee you will have an amazing time!

Chris
BACHELOR OF LAW/COMMERCE

Hi guys! My name is Chris and I am a fourth year Commerce / Law student. I was born and raised in Sydney and think it’s a great place to live in – it honestly is one of the friendliest and most diverse cities in the world! I definitely hope that you make the most of your time here, and enjoy what Australia has to offer.

Having undertaken a student exchange in 2014, I know what it feels like to be an international student in a foreign country. It can be an extremely challenging experience, but I’ve definitely found that the more you get involved, the more you’ll enjoy your time at university. Joining the Cultural Mentor program, and the events that SDI run, are great ways to meet other students and enjoy yourself whilst you’re studying at UNSW!

If you have any questions about UNSW and Sydney, let us know! I look forward to meeting you all this semester. Good luck for the semester ahead!
Aurélia
BACHELOR OF CIVIL AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING

Hi guys! My name is Aurélia and I am in my second year of Civil and Environmental engineering degree. Just like you, I am an international student! Studying in a completely different environment is challenging especially if English is not your mother tongue, but I just wanted to let you know that all the people working at SDI, including the cultural mentors, are here for you. In my case, they were the first people I met at UNSW and they also became my first friends as I was joining a couple of their great events. Through them, I met a lot of other students, sometime studying the same degree as me. This helped not only to be more integrated but I also learnt a lot about Australia and living in Sydney. As you can see, I definitely enjoy it and that is the reason why I am part of this program now! So come and join us!

I seriously hope that you will enjoy your uni life here as much as I do and you will make the most out of it. Just remember that we are here to help you so don’t hesitate to contact us!

Fahim
BACHELOR OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Hello and welcome to UNSW! I’m Fahim and I am currently in my 4th year studying Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering. As an international student, I know that the first few weeks at the university can be a bit overwhelming, trying to find your feet at a new country. However, by embracing the diversity at UNSW, I was able to make the most out of my university life and become a more confident and active person.

The mentors at SDI are usually the first friends the new students make in the university, and I have seen a lot of students coming back to join the program because of how much they have benefitted from it.

Looking forward to meeting you soon.
